A-BOMB A NATION

FACTORY OF NOISE
"A-Bomb A Nation"
The gears turn, the conveyors spin, and the Factory churns out some wonderful noise. Not industrial, but a real
revolution in the form
of pop, funk, and other mayhem. Includes the "rock opera" A Day in the Life of Mr Hibbens.

SKID GIBSON

OUT OF THE BLUE

THE TOTAL IDIOTS
"Skid Gibson"

What can be said? A
lovingly executed,
completely twisted
cover attack on Debbie's "Out Of The Blue" album. Plus the bonus track "Bucket Of Worms". Yuks abound.

as pop songs and other

THE COMMON FACTORS
"Everybody's Weird"

Songs that soothe the soul like a cold bottle of MD 20/20 - The Common Factors are a tonic for these twisted
times with melodies
that stick to your ribs
and leave you smiling,
and songwriting that strikes a freaky nerve.

"The SLEEVECOAT TALES"

DISHWASHERS
"The SleeveCoat Tales"

So loose they're hip.
The UDW's serve up a very friendly match of
well written songs,
polkas, the occasional cadence, and other witty and observant slices of life put to music.

songs ranging from the footstompin' to the beautiful and ethereal.

EXPLODING NOSH
"Tempos And Titles by Bob Carino and the Sub-Caps And Other Backwash"

Side A is an interesting example of how to write songs to someone else's titles and drumbeats
and come out looking innocent. Side B is more of the usual Nosh.

EXPLODING NOSH
"The Dream of the Yellow Toyota"

A nonsensical concept album chock full of odd pop, instrumental freak outs, a five year old guest songwriter, and plenty of bizarre references to a certian
car named Endicott...

STEPHEN THOMAS AND THE REPTILES
"Hello"

The industry was stunned when these psychedelic
blues artists announced the end of their live performances. On this debut, now finally
available through Sonic Delights, they blend
the sentimental with the absurd. A surreal examination of life and its spiders with sunglasses.

Hummer along with the Factory through quirky
pop, noisy instrumentals,
and white boy rap, on

song reference tone and narration number, or you may get lost in the machinery...
